Aster Studio

Aster Studio's is a video game company committed to the previous generations business model of paying for a quality game once, and getting the full experience.

Aster Studio's believes in the idea that video games are for entertainment. In this current video game generation, gamers are plagued by microtransactions and empty promises of future content. There is no excuse for a company to deliver a half baked product, and still expect the consumer to still pay full price for the game. Our studio is committed to delivering high quality games that are content complete at launch. The creativity and detail put into every level we create shows our team's passion for making you have the best experience possible. Our studio is devoted to making games worth your time.

PERSONAS

Consumer	Event Organizer	New Members

Prospective customer/ Interested gamer	Prospective organizer for conventions	Prospective newcomer to the team

COMPS